Just want to get this class list to you to make sure you save the date. Let me know if you are joining me as soon as possible so I know the class is a go. Of course you can paint a piece off of the new class list or paint any of my older designs.

Once you've decided on your classes email me to register. Giving me your name phone number and classes you'd like to register for. Register soon so I can get the prep out to you ASAP

A $20.00 non refundable deposit is required at time of registration. (unless I have to cancel)

Please forward the class list to any friends you know that may be interested in taking classes with me. A big thanks in advance!

If there is another class you were wanting to paint that totally works just let me know ahead of time so I can send out the right prep and bring the right supplies to Edmonton.

Hope you like the new classes! Any questions feel free to ask,

Hugs, Cin
